EASTER.

Why the Resurrection Day Is One of the Movable Feasts.

Our Saviour Followed Laws of Hebrews in the Old Law.

Feast of the Passover Still Celebrated by Orthodox Hebrews.

LUNAR MONTHS REGULATED IT

Tomorrow will be Easter Sunday, the Feast of the Resurrection. During the week that closes today Catholics have attended ceremonies in their various parish churches celebrative of the passion and death of our Lord. Last year Easter Sunday was celebrated March 31; this year it will fall on April 11. There are some Catholics and not a few of our dissenting brethren that want to know why Easter is a movable feast. They can agree that our Saviour was born in a stable at Bethlehem on December 25, but they can not understand why one particular day is not set apart in each year for his resurrection.

Our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ was the son of Mary, and Catholics hail her as the Blessed Virgin. She was descended from the house of David and her Son the Messiah, adhered to the faith of his mother. Since He came on earth to redeem mankind from the sin of our first parents, He deemed it necessary to conform to the laws given the Jews by his Heavenly Father. In addition to the commandments of the decalogue our Saviour obeyed the laws laid down by the patriarchs of the Jewish people. He submitted to the law of circumcision. He attended the synagogue and on the night before He was betrayed by Judas Christ, and his apostles observed the feast of the Passover or Pascha. On that occasion He instituted the Blessed Sacrament of the Eucharist.

The Passover or Pascha was celebrated by the Jews on the 14th of Nisan, and in those days the calendar was governed by lunar months instead of as it is in our day. It commemorated the night of the flight of the Jews from Egypt, the first full moon that followed the vernal equinox. On the day following Christ's last celebration of the Passover He was crucified.

The Talmud, the Bible, history and tradition tell us that the Jews left Egypt on the night of the full moon of Nisan. The destroying angel smote the first born of Egypt but passed over the houses of the Hebrews. This deliverance was granted on condition that each head of a Hebrew house was to slay a lamb or kid without blemish on the night of Nisan 14. He was to sprinkle its blood on the lintel and sideposts of the door. Afterward the lamb was to be roasted, no bone being broken, and eaten with unleavened bread and bitter herbs by all the family, including the stranger, however, being allowed to partake of it, and the feast was to be observed year by year as a perpetual ordinance of the Jewish people. That ordinance is observed to this day, and Wednesday of this week, from sundown until the same hour the next day, the orthodox Hebrews of Louisville observed the feast of the Passover.

The Catholic church teaches that Christ was the true Paschal lamb prefigured by the lamb of the old Hebrew feast. St. John calls attention to the fact that not a bone of our Saviour was broken on the cross; and St. Paul in his first Epistle to the Corinthians, verses 7 and 8, says: "Purge out the old leaven that you may be a new people, as you are unleavened; for also our pasch or passover, Christ, has been sacrificed for us, therefore let us keep the feast in the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth."

The Saviour was crucified and died on Friday, the day following the closing of the feast of the Passover. The Hebrews then, as now, celebrated their deliverance from Egypt on the night of the full moon that followed the vernal equinox. Christ celebrated the Passover and was crucified the next day. On the third day thereafter He gloriously arose from the grave.

His birth, his passion and death would have been for naught unless He did arise from the grave. For this reason Catholics and Christians of all denominations consider his resurrection the crowning feature of man's redemption. Hence since the earliest ages of Christianity the Feast of the Resurrection or Easter Sunday has been celebrated by Christians, not on any one particular day in each year, but on the Sunday that follows the first full moon subsequent to the vernal equinox. Our Saviour observed the feast. He instituted the Catholic church, and therefore, we were men to set or try to set another date for celebrating the Feast of the Resurrection would be to try to usurp divine authority.

WILL VISIT PARENTS.

Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Sweeney, of 603 West Market street, New Albany, and their daughter and son, Margaret Jane and Edward Holbrook, will sail from New York City for Ireland on Wednesday on the Steamer Maria. The family will visit Mr. Sweeney's parents at Carrick-on-Shannon, and will later make a tour of the principal cities in continental Europe.

DEATH WAS SUDDEN.

Timothy Frawley, one of the oldest, best known and most interesting characters in Jeffersonville, died suddenly at the Sherman House in that city Wednesday morning. He was seated at the breakfast table when death came upon him. The deceased was born in Castle Clare, County Clare, Ireland, almost ninety-four years ago, and when nearly fifty years of age came to America in search of a younger brother, who had become a priest after leaving Ireland. Mr. Frawley found his brother after a long search. Later he joined the Union army and served throughout the war. For a number of years he received a pension of $20 a month. The funeral took place from St. Augustine's church yesterday.

EXPECTANT.

Delegates to Central Committee Want to Extend Due Hospitality.

The Central Committee of the C. K. of A. met in regular session at St. Mary's Hall Friday night of last week. The attendance was a little below the average when the meeting opened, but this was owing to the Lenten devotions, and later in the evening a majority of the delegates put in their appearance. President McGinn occupied the chair.

William T. Meehan, President of Branch 25 and delegate to the Central Committee, invited the entire body to visit his branch Easter Monday night, when a smoker is to be held and when plenty of good music is to be provided. Capt. Gus Kane and Sgt. Eugene McCarthy invited the delegates to Phoenix Hill Park to witness the drills of the Uniform Rank on the second and fourth Tuesday of each month. Harry Veeneman was chosen Vice President, and John J. Score filled the Secretary's chair for the evening.

The Entertainment Committee was the recipient of several suggestions as to the raising of funds for the proper reception and entertainment of delegates to the State convention in September. The committee has several projects in mind and will make a definite report at the next meeting. A communication from Supreme President Gaudin caused some of a disappointment. He wrote that the appropriation for State organization purposes had been exhausted and that an official organizer for Kentucky could not be appointed until after the month of May. Short talks were made during the evening by Charles J. Desse, Delegates Schlang and Wernert of Branch 6, William T. Meehan of Branch 25, John Kenney and Capt. John Murphy, of Jeffersonville, and all bristled with live suggestions for properly entertaining the delegates to the State Convention.

NEW CHURCH.

Handsome New Edifice For Sturdy Congregation On the Knobs.

Rev. Father Sermersheim and his congregation are making elaborate preparations for the laying of the cornerstone of St. Mary-of-the-Knobs church in Lafayette township, six miles north of New Albany. This great event will occur Sunday, May 10. The Right Rev. Denis O'Donoghue, Auxiliary Bishop of Indianapolis, will be the officiating clergyman, and will be assisted by many priests from Southern Indiana. The sermon will be preached by the Rev. Father Edward McLarron, a native of New Albany and at present rector of one of the largest Catholic churches in Evansville.

The new St. Mary's will occupy the site of the first Catholic edifice in Southern Indiana, and was erected in 1838. The first pastor and builder was the Rev. Father Neyron. Forty years ago the original structure was replaced by a brick structure, but this has become too small to accommodate the rapidly growing congregation. The new edifice will be built of brick with stone trimmings and the estimated cost is $16,000. The necessary brick were burned close to the proposed site, and almost all the money necessary to pay for it has been raised.

VALEDICTORY.

Touching Address of John Mitchell When He Says Farewell.

John Mitchell, for ten years President of the United Mine Workers of America, and undoubtedly the most popular labor leader in the world, made a touching address to his comrades and fellow workers on the occasion of his retirement.

"My boys," he said, "and I will call you my boys, even though some of you are nearly twice as old as I am—I regard you as my boys—be as good union men now and in the time to come as you have been while I was directing your affairs. God bless you again! I am leaving this movement, not because I want to leave you, but because I have to leave you. I say to you now, gentlemen, may God bless our movement. May He look down on our efforts to better the lot of humanity with that favor, with that grace He has given it in the days when I have led you."

The whole labor world, and many of the capitalist class, hope that Mr. Mitchell will soon be restored to health, and that he will again be the guiding hand in affairs even greater than that of the United Mine Workers.

ABBOT RETURNS HOME.

The Right Rev. Edmund Obrecht, Abbot of Gethsemane, who has been in Oregon inspecting the abbey of the Trappist monks in that State, returned to Kentucky this week. He did not stop over in Louisville, but went at once to the abbey in Nelson county. Father Obrecht is very much pleased with the new monastery in the Northwest. He hastened home to participate in the Holy Week services.

CHAGRINED.

People of Ireland Are Very Sorely Disappointed in Liberals.

The Editor of Leading Journal Advises Retaliatory Measures.

New Premier Is Unpopular and Not For Home Rule.

HOW THE SECRET LEAKED OUT

The resignation of Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman and consequent disruption of the British Cabinet, followed so closely by the appointment of Hon. Herbert Asquith as Premier, has set Ireland as well as England by the ears. Asquith is cold and a poor mixer, a man with few intimate friends, and while he gave his tentative consent to the adoption of Hon. John E. Redmond's resolution favoring home rule for Ireland, it is known that he is heartily opposed to it. The editor of the Dundalk Democrat, one of the leading journals of Ireland and out-and-out for home rule, says in his latest number:

"It would be idle to deny that the result of the debate on Mr. Redmond's home rule motion was a profound disappointment to the people of this country. We had been led to believe that some pronouncement would have been elicited from the Government as to their intentions in the matter of home rule. Their sympathy and good will and their firm convictions we had been assured of over and over again, and Ireland looked for—and had a right to look for—some definite undertaking that the Government would be prepared to carry their convictions into practical effect. Instead of that we have been reassured of Mr. Birrell's firm convictions, we have been told by Mr. Asquith that he hopes some day England may recognize the value, as an Imperial asset, of a self-governing Ireland; but that the Liberals are neither going to introduce a home rule bill nor prepared to make good a promising plank in their general election platform. Nothing could be more unsatisfactory. Of course the Liberals voted for Mr. Redmond's resolution as a pious and harmless expression of their sympathy of which the people of this country have grown pardonably tired. But what Ireland wants is the fulfillment of Liberal pledges or at least a definite promise of an early fulfillment. If the leaders of that party will not replace the home rule in the program of Gladstone left it we should think it the duty of the Irish party to retaliate in Parliament and in the constituencies at the various bye-elections. At the general election, The Liberals have a prospect of a majority in the House which inclines them to insolence. The Irish vote in Great Britain helped them to that majority. But the Irish vote ought to be reserved for people who will keep their promises to Ireland, and the adoption of a firm attitude by the Irish leaders may even yet bring Messrs. Asquith & Co. to a more sanguine frame of mind on the subject of home rule."

The latest cables from London bring the intelligence that Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman is showing little signs of improvement. It is also currently rumored that he has been offered a peerage, but that he is holding the matter in abeyance. King Edward is being roundly criticized for not returning at once to England when the Premier's resignation was presented to him. By the way, there is a story that a woman's tongue was responsible for the leak of the Premier's withdrawal. The news was received by the King during the morning and of course he advised his suite of the matter. At luncheon that day the wife of one of the Englishmen in King Edward's train dropped a remark that possibly His Majesty would have to change his plans on account of the Premier's resignation. A French diplomat at the table relayed the information to the French Premier and by him was given to the Temps. It was thence flashed over the world.

MANY PROJECTS.

Mackin Council Members Certainly Not Afraid of Work.

Although it was the last week in Lent, Mackin Council had a splendid attendance Monday night and President Robert T. Burke congratulated the officers and members on their fidelity to the order and council. John Kern, who has been on the sick list, was reported improving. Bernard Michael was announced well, and Virgil Bohn's condition is unchanged. Louis J. Kieffer, in behalf of the Opera Committee, reported that rehearsals were progressing smoothly for the performance of "A Mile From Town" and said that everything indicated that the performances would eclipse those of "The Dreamers" last year.

It was reported that the Supreme Council Committee would meet at Trinity Hall on the afternoon of the first Sunday in May. The Entertainment Committee announced that a dance had been arranged for Easter Monday night, on which occasion a large crowd is expected. From now on Mackin Council will resume its Tuesday night meetings. Recently the council has loaned chairs to other organizations for eucharist and other entertainments. Monday night permission to borrow chairs for a wedding was asked. The council unanimously decided to lend chairs to any member of the council that would embark on a matrimonial sea. The Debating Club will hold its next discussion on the afternoon of Sunday, April 26. The subject will be: "Resolved, That Mackin Council ought to erect a modern and well equipped gymnasium as an addition to its splendid home." The next initiation will take place May 28.

WILL STAY HERE.

Col. Matt J. Winn Loves His Old Kentucky Home.

Col. Matt J. Winn, the well known turf magnate, does not intend to remove from Louisville, as was stated in one of the daily papers this week.

In addition to his turf interests in the West and South, Col. Winn is manager of the Empire City race track at Yonkers, New York. He also receives a salary of $10,000 a year as manager of the New York City track. Although Mr. Winn will spend a great deal of time in England this summer he has no idea of making his home anywhere except in Louisville.

COMING STRONG.

Division 1 Plans Big Things For the Next Few Months.

Division 1, A. O. H., will meet in regular session Tuesday night, and it is expected that definite plans for dedicating the new quarters will be announced. A date had been agreed on, but because it would interfere with a church entertainment the dedication was postponed voluntarily. The new quarters in Falls City Hall are very pleasant and attractive and much more convenient to the members.

A splendid musical and literary program has been arranged, and the members of the order are expected to be the guests of honor on that evening. In addition special invitations will be sent to members of the other divisions in Louisville, New Albany and Jeffersonville.

President John M. Mulloy and his colleagues believe that Hibernianism is just beginning to grow in Louisville, and they propose now to make Division 1 the banner branch of the order in the entire South. An extraordinarily interesting program was promised by the Entertainment Committee.

RECENT DEATHS.

The funeral of Robert Keating, a former member of the police force, took place from the family residence, 1416 Payne street, Wednesday morning, and a requiem mass for the repose of his soul was celebrated at St. Aloysius' church. Mr. Keating was highly esteemed by all who knew him. His death resulted from lung trouble.

Mrs. Margaret Kelly, a well known member of St. John's congregation, died at the family residence, 717 East Chestnut street, last Sunday night. She was the beloved wife of Patrick Kelly, a former member of the City Council. She was held in high esteem by all who knew her. James B. Kelly, President of Trinity Council, Y. M. C. A., is a son of Mrs. Kelly by a former marriage.

Only one week elapsed between the death of Mrs. Sarah Grady and that of her daughter, Mrs. Delia Nugent. Mrs. Grady died Monday morning at her home, 2719 Bank street. On the Monday previous the daughter died, survived by her husband, Edward Nugent. Mrs. Grady was seventy-two years of age and was greatly beloved in the community in which she lived. She is survived by one son, John Grady, and a daughter, Mrs. Albert Oldham. The funeral took place from St. Cecilia's church Wednesday morning.

Miss Rosina Vogel, for years a active worker in St. Boniface's congregation, died at the home of her father, Philip A. Vogel, 817 East Market street, early Sunday morning. She had been ill several months and succumbed to a complication of ailments. The deceased was forty-seven years old. She is survived by her father, Philip A. Vogel; one sister, Mrs. Catherine Lynn, and four brothers, John and Albert, proprietors of Vogel Bros. Company, shoe manufacturers on West Main street, and Joseph and Adolph, of the firm of Philip A. Vogel & Sons, on East Main street. The funeral took place from St. Boniface's church Tuesday morning and was attended by many sorrowing friends.

CONVENTIONS.

The Various Societies of Catholics Will Meet Here This Year.

Louisville Brethren Prepare to Give Their Visitors a Hearty Welcome.

Two State and One National Body Will Assemble For Work.

MEANS ADVERTISEMENT FOR CITY

This is to be a convention year in Louisville for societies of Catholics. The Supreme Council of the Y. M. C. A. meets here in August, and in September there will be meetings of the State Council of the Catholic Knights of America and the State convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians. Each of these organizations will bring many visitors to Louisville. The local branches of these organizations have each appointed committees to prepare for the proper reception and entertainment of the delegates and visitors. The delegates and other visitors will spend more money in Louisville than their entertainment will cost; when they leave they will advertise Louisville all over the State and the United States.

The Catholic Knights of America is one of the oldest fraternal insurance organizations in Kentucky. It has branches in various sections of this State and during its existence of three decades has built many a home for widows and orphans. Of all the fraternal insurance societies now pay their death claims more promptly than the Catholic Knights. It is probable that Dr. Gaudin, the Supreme President, and several other of the supreme officers will attend the State meeting.

In the same month, September, the Ancient Order of Hibernians will hold its State convention here. It will be just long enough after the national convention to allow the Louisville members of the order a chance to catch their breath, and prepare to entertain their Kentucky brethren.

The Young Men's Institute is the youngest of the orders to celebrate in Louisville this year, but it is strong in numbers. That organization will bring delegates from California and all over the West and Northwest, from Tennessee, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Michigan and Ohio. Not only will the delegates come, but there will be visitors from neighboring cities like Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Owensboro, Covington, Newport and Bellevue.

Each and every one of these visitors will spend not less than ten dollars during their stay in Louisville. The hotels, restaurants, produce, the street cars, the haberdashers, the dry goods stores and milliners will all profit by these several conventions.

Of course they will have to be cordially met and entertained during their sojourn, and to that end the A. O. H., the A. O. U. and the C. K. of A. have their respective entertainment committees in the field devising ways and means for taking care of their expected guests.

STILL BOOMS.

Division 4 Begins Effort to Gather Many More Hibernians.

For the first time in several months the meeting of Division 4, A. O. H., was opened with the old Monday night. The attendance was large and the chorus was splendid. President John H. Hennessy occupied the chair. The following were proposed for membership: William O'Donnell, William Linskey, John Lawless and Joseph Naughton. The new members elected were Eugene O'Brien, John Burke and Peter D. Muldoon. Patrick Mangan, who had been ill, was reported improving and Patrick Nalley fully recovered.

John T. Fitzgibbon, delegate to the Catholic Federation, reported that the last meeting of that body was both entertaining and instructive. Lieut. Thomas J. Langan, in behalf of the Hibernian Knights, stated that drills were being held regularly and that the members were showing much enthusiasm in their work.

The Entertainment Committee announced that great progress was being made in arranging for the little amateur vaudeville soiree to be held the latter part of this month. The various performers will have their first rehearsal at Bertrand Hall Easter Monday night.

Rival teams to secure new members will soon be hard at work. John T. Fitzgibbon will captain one team and Patrick Burke the other. Each captain will choose ten members of the division to aid in the work. County President John A. Murphy was called upon for an address. In his brief remarks he expressed pleasure at the reports of the officers and progress of the division. Division 4 used the new ritual for the first time Monday night.

ESCAPED SERIOUS HURT.

Thomas J. Keenan, the well known funeral director and former State President of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, was the victim of a runaway accident Tuesday, and in an effort to save his three-year-old daughter, who was in the buggy with him, he had a narrow escape from death. Mr. Keenan was leading a funeral cortege to St. Louis cemetery, and at Jackson and Broadway his horse shied at a passing steam roller. If he had been alone he could have managed the frenzied animal, but in his efforts to protect the little girl Mr. Keenan lost control of the horse. The buggy was overturned and the occupants were thrown violently upon the granite pavement. The driver managed to save the child from injury, but he was rendered unconscious. Dr. Frank E. Corrigan attended him, and while the injury was at first considered serious, the physician soon announced that his patient was out of danger. Mr. Keenan was able to get up about the house Wednesday morning.

FEDERATION

Hears Able Address From President On Historical Affairs.

The Jefferson County Federation of Catholic Societies met at Bertrand Hall on Thursday night of last week with President Newton G. Rogers presiding and were very well pleased with their new quarters, and the business of the evening was transacted with haste and enthusiasm. Delegates from the Catholic Order of Foresters were admitted to membership, so that practically every society of Catholics in Louisville is now affiliated with the federation.

A communication from Congressman Swager Sherley, relative to the Philippine Commission bill, was read and discussed. President Rogers appointed Stephen J. McElliott, a general promoter and solicitor for the Federation Bulletin. He also appointed an Entertainment Committee, whose duty it will be to provide an attractive and instructive programme for each meeting. This committee will also try to secure the affiliation of the few societies of Catholics not yet connected with the central body.

The feature of the literary exercises was an address from President Newton G. Rogers on the "One Hundred Year War" in France. Mr. Rogers detailed the life and character of Joan of Arc, who is to be canonized this year.

HIGH HONOR

Has Come to William E. Castle From Miller's Federation.

William E. Castle, Secretary of the Ballard & Ballard Company, has been honored by his election as President of the Miller's National Federation. The election was held at a convention of millers at the Great Northern Hotel in Chicago on Thursday of last week. Mr. Castle is a Louisville product and all her people can be proud of him. He has been associated with the Ballard & Ballard Company for about twenty years. He was successively clerk, salesman and Secretary.

Early in the action of life he learned that bread was the staff of life; that people ate it three times a day. He knew if they got good flour they could make good bread, and he felt that his company was turning out a product that was good. He believed in combinations of men as well as in combinations of capital, if the best results are to be attained, and for years has been an active worker in the Miller's National Federation. Last year he was Vice President of the association, but his election as President came as a pleasant surprise.

REDMOND SPEAKS.

Says Attitude of New Premier Is Direct Challenge to Irish.

On Wednesday Hon. John E. Redmond addressed a meeting of the United Irish League in Dublin, and made it perfectly plain that the Irish Parliamentary party was prepared to make it warm for the new Premier and Cabinet unless some move for home rule was forthcoming. He said that Mr. Asquith's assumption of the Premiership had involved an alteration of the attitude of Ireland toward the Liberal party and Irish voters could support Winston Churchill in the approaching bye-elections at Manchester.

Continuing, Mr. Redmond declared that the attitude of Premier Asquith and Secretary Ireland toward home rule was a direct challenge to the people of Ireland, and he warned Mr. Asquith to remember the fate of Lord Rosebery.

Ireland herself would have to force the home rule question to the front at the next general election, but there was nothing to be gained by withdrawing the Nationalists from Westminster.

SPLENDID DRILL.

The two companies of the Uniform Rank, Catholic Knights of America, held their regular drill at Phoenix Hill Hall Tuesday night. Both companies had a full attendance and went through a splendid drill. Capt. Gus Kane commanding. After the evolutions the Knights were put through the sword manual, and at its conclusion Major General Michael Releher made the companies a congratulatory address. Both of these splendid bodies will take part in Louisville's big military parade next month, and those who have attended the drills predict that they will make a showing second to none.

NEWMAN'S BOOST.

James L. Newman, of Frankfort, one of the most popular newspaper men that ever shoved a quill at Kentucky's capital, has accepted a place with the Cincinnati Enquirer, and expects to locate in the Ohio metropolis. Mr. Newman has been correspondent for several Louisville and St. Louis papers during the past ten years and there is no newspaper man in the State who is more thorough touch with matters political.

FREE SPEECH

And a Free Press Are the Guarantys of Kentucky's Constitution.

The Kentucky Irish American Stands Upon the Bill of Rights.

Only Such Criticisms as Will Benefit the Citizens and Taxpayers.

NO MALICE IN THESE COLUMNS

The Constitution of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, Sections 8 and 9, under the bill of rights, says: "Printing presses shall be free to every person who undertakes to examine the proceedings of the General Assembly or any branch of government, and no law shall ever be made to restrain the right thereof. Every person may freely and fully speak, write and print on any subject, being responsible for the abuse of that liberty. In prosecutions for the publication of papers investigating the official conduct of officers or men in public capacity, or when the matter published is true, no damages shall be given in evidence; and in all indictments for libel the jury shall have the right to determine the law and the facts, under the direction of the court, as in other cases."

Acting under this bill of rights the Kentucky Irish American last week published an article dealing with different branches of the government in this city. It printed what it believed to be true, and during the past week it has received information that makes assurance doubly sure. There was no malice behind any line or word. The unfortunate poor who have to be treated at the City Hospital ought to receive the care that taxpayers provide for.

An attempt was made to get the editors and publishers of the Kentucky Irish American before the Board of Safety for an investigation behind closed doors. They were not available for any star chamber sessions. A police Captain and a patrolman were sent at divers times to secure the attendance of the editors at Chief Haager's office, but it developed that it was W. Marshall Bullitt that wanted them instead of Col. Haager. Mr. Bullitt is not the press censor for this paper. When he called over the telephone and requested the presence of one person, who refused to go, he was told: "Our office is at the Board of Public Safety, and we can meet you here."

"Then you positively refuse to come?" said Mr. Bullitt. "I most certainly do," was the reply, and then the interview closed. There have been printed in the daily papers stories of criminal libel proceedings, but up to the hour of going to press no such action has been undertaken. An investigation in open court is a different proposition from one behind closed doors in the office of the Board of Public Safety. Since the publication last week many persons, Republicans as well as Democrats, have voluntarily come forward to give the Kentucky Irish American additional evidence in these matters.

In justice to Miss Laura B. Owen it ought to be said that she did not meet nor talk to any representative of this paper, nor did this paper say that she had given any of its representatives information. The information received was given upon what we consider authoritative sources. The Evening Post, with its customary shortsightedness, rushed into print with a story that the charges made by "an obscure weekly paper" were false, slanderous and without foundation. The editor of the Evening Post did not give us the courtesy of asking the source of our information, but the Kentucky Irish American is published and printed without authority from Col. Richard W. Knott. By the way, we can find more corroborative witnesses than were found for the noted "Mysterious Red."

The Kentucky Irish American reserves the right to criticize this administration or any other administration when it is cognizant of abuses. The City Hospital muddle is not the only sore on the city's body politic. There are other branches that need attention, and when the full information is at hand and the occasion offers the Kentucky Irish American will print what it can substantiate.

During the week about to close there was a great demand for copies of this paper, but the edition had been exhausted before Saturday evening and the type had been distributed. It may have been an "obscure" paper, but it was the most talked about paper in Louisville this week.

WILL VISIT ERIN.

It is announced that King Edward is to make a visit to Ireland during the coming summer and that he will make a more extended tour than he has made in that country since his coronation. He will probably stay a few days in Dublin Castle, where he will hold a court and a levee. He also will visit Belfast, where he will be the guest of Lord Shaftesbury at Belfast Castle. From Belfast he will go to Derry, where he will be the guest of Lord Londonderry, and he is also expected to spend a day or two at Baronesscourt, near Strabane, the seat of the Duke of Abercorn. He will conclude his visit by spending a day or two with the Marquis of Waterford at Curraghmore. According to present arrangements the King will be accompanied by the Queen and the elder children of the Prince of Wales.

ALLELUIA.

Tomorrow will be Easter Sunday. Churches will be ornamented with flowers, illumined with many tapers and electric lights; the organs will give out their grandest tones and bells will peal joyously. Why? Because our Saviour, Christ, has arisen from the dead that all of us might be redeemed. It is proper that every Catholic should approach the holy sacraments of penance and the Eucharist tonight and tomorrow.

WRONG AS USUAL.

Because the Kentucky Irish American has dared to tell the truth, because it has dared to print facts that the daily papers either carelessly overlooked or purposely disregarded in view of the fact that the city printing contract has not been awarded, it has fallen under the censure of the Louisville Evening Post. Under the head, "What Say The Irish Americans?" the Evening Post printed an editorial diatribe against this journal last Wednesday. It gave a garbled version of the Kentucky Irish American's editorial concerning several old soldiers, but at that came as near to the truth as the Evening Post usually does.

What say the Irish Americans? They say that the paper that told that Robert Emmet came to the United States and opened a law office in New York is not to be believed. The Post printed what it believed to be true, but without investigation. That article brought the Post notoriety and censure from Maine to California. A nephew of the illustrious Robert Emmet had to call the Post to order before it made a weak retraction.

The Kentucky Irish American's only assumptions were that Gov. Willson would be man enough not to let certain self-constituted representatives of law and order interfere with his business.

TOO MUCH JOHNSON.

Where and when did Gov. Johnson get his ideas of Kentucky Democrats? It rather jars on one's nerves to see this tentative (?) candidate for the Democratic nomination for the Presidency taking a fall out of the Irish and Catholics, when he so far forgot himself Monday night, with such men as Toastmaster Edward J. McDermott, Judge Matt O'Doherty and Judge James H. Mulligan seated at the banquet board, to make use of the following expression:

"I know that it is not popular to cry out against the Government. There are people who have come from the old country, one green little isle, who are always 'agin the Government.' I don't know that I ought really to desire to be amongst that class who are always against the Government. I know that it is not popular to cry out against the Government and its institutions. I know that Savanarola cried out against the corruption and vice of his own times, and the people of Florence, every man of whom, forgetting what he was doing to them and had done for them, made him pay the penalty by the sacrifice of his own life."

Blaine had his Burchard. It was the unfortunate "Rum, Romanism and Rebellion" that defeated the "Plumed Knight." Did Gov. Johnson intend to Burchardize himself by jumping on the Irish and a Dominican missionary?

DEMOCRACY'S CHANCE.

The Democratic party never had a more favorable opportunity to carry a national election than this year. The Republicans in the North, East and West are divided as to a choice of candidates, and it matters not whether the nominee be Taft, Fairbanks, Hughes or Cannon, there will be many disgruntled and disappointed people to deal with. That vast horde of men who toil in factories in the Eastern States blame President Roosevelt and his policies for the financial stringency that caused the shutting down of workshops. It is he that they blame for the demonstrations of the unemployed and for the anarchical conditions that prevailed in various parts of the United States. No Republican platform will satisfy these disappointed men this year unless the Democrats make a deplorable mistake.

A strong Democratic Presidential candidate standing flat-footed on a platform that includes an economic government for the people and by the people will mean victory in this good year of our Lord 1908. The South can and must take a hand in making that platform and naming the candidate. Factional feeling must be laid aside and all hands unite on the principles of Jefferson and Jackson. To aid the South in getting into line it is the duty of Kentucky Democrats to get together now. There is no time like the present. Only recently Secretary Taft, in an address delivered in North Carolina, declared that there was no real Republican party in the South at present, but that most of those who styled themselves Republicans are Federal office-holders or office-seekers, and that it would be better for Southern Republicans if only Democrats were appointed to Federal positions.

This statement is not new, but it is undeniably true. The average Federal office-holder in the South cares not one whit about the success of his party in his city, his county or his State. Take our own State—what did Postmaster Frank Fisher ever do to secure the election of James Smith as Mayor of Paducah? Did anybody ever hear of Collector E. T. Franks helping to elect W. Meigs O'Bryan or the Republican Council at Owensboro? What did Dr. James and State Senator William Henry Jones do at any time to arouse local enthusiasm for the Republican party? Take it in Lexington—do you not suppose that Samuel J. Roberts would rather be Collector of Internal Revenue than see a Republican elected Mayor? It might destroy some of his prestige. Right here in Louisville did anybody hear that Judge Walter Evans voted for Mayor Grinstead, or that he supported Augustus E. Willson for Governor? Did Collector Craft or Postmaster Robert E. Woods hustle for any of the Republicans on the city or State tickets?

These remarks are merely for the purpose of impressing on Democratic minds that there is no real Republican party in Kentucky. Gov. Willson was elected by Democratic votes. Mayor Grinstead was an accident that drifted in on the tidal wave that elected Gov. Willson. The Democrats of Kentucky must unite now to elect the national ticket in November. After a Democratic President is elected Kentucky Democrats can prepare to come into their own again.

The Evening Post is lamenting because it has heard rumors that two prominent Democrats, who have been at cross purposes for a time, have agreed to bury the hatchet. What worries the Post more is that all the Louisville Democrats intend to get together before the campaign is well on.

OUR MARY.

Former Actress Who Let World Know We Were
On Map.

A recent cablegram from Rome brought these tidings: Mme. de Navarro (nee Anderson) is here with her husband, as he is fulfilling his yearly duties as Chamberlain to the Pope. He looks well in small clothes and the huge gold chain over his long tailed coat prescribed by Vatican etiquette, and it is said that his wife delights in it and him. She thoroughly enjoys this annual visit. Those who remember her as the Mary Anderson, the stage star in all her statuesque beauty would scarcely recognize her now, for although she still is a handsome woman, her lines are no longer classical, in fact, she is decidedly matronly and much more of a Juno than a Venus.

LADIES' AUXILIARY.

The Ladies' Auxiliary, A. O. H., met Wednesday night with a fair attendance. Miss Rose Sweeney presided and kept the members moving with spirit and good humor. The special committee appointed to arrange for a euchre reported that the amusement would be held on the night of the first Wednesday in May. The Picnic Committee reported progress and hopes to be able to announce the date and site for the outing at the next meeting. Mrs. Mary Flynn, of New Albany, who has been ill for some time, has fully recovered, and all the others on the sick list are reported improving.

SENATOR BRADLEY SPEAKS.

Senator-elect William O. Bradley opened the political campaign for Vice President Fairbanks at Glasgow, Ky., last Saturday. The former Governor addressed a large and enthusiastic crowd. While he paid high tribute to Secretary of War Taft, he told his audience that Vice President Fairbanks was better calculated to secure the votes of the majority of Americans. On the same evening Senator Bradley spoke at Bowling Green, and made a profound impression on his audience.

HAVE ABANDONED HOPE.

Mrs. Catherine McBarron, the venerable mother of Rev. Father Eugene McBarron, of Evansville, and Con J. McBarron, is critically ill at her home, Ninth and Elm streets, New Albany, and her many friends will be grieved to learn that Thursday night hope for her recovery had been almost abandoned.

MY GALWAY GIRLEEN.

Like the night cloud that hangs on the low mountain steep
Is her hair, and her eyes are like waters that sleep
'Neath the shadow of the pinegrove when twilight comes down,
And fair as the May with a soft tinge of brown,
That tells of the kiss of the sea breeze, I ween,
Is the bloom on the cheeks of my Galway girlieen.

They tell me of riches an' rare jewels bright,
Buried deep by the fairies on Kinvara's height;
But rarer than gems that in fairy caves lie
Is the red of her lip and the flash of her eye.
With her sweet, witching ways no stately proud queen
Could rival the grace of my Galway girlieen.

There's Rory from Innish has money galore,
There's Thady from Cahir has cows by the score.
Every boy of them all from Gurtene to Roundstone
Would give Con's half of Erin to call her his own;
But for wealth sure she cares not one weeshy traneeen,
So, mayrah, for their chance with my Galway girlieen.

For her heart is as true as the wave to the shore,
That back with its soft skiss returns evermore.
And the riches of Tir fa tonn couldn't buy
One smile from her lips nor one glance from her eye.
And soon with the boys and the girls on the green
They can dance at our wedding, my Galway girlieen.

There will be no charge for either ice cream or dancing and a large crowd is looked for. William Berry is Chairman of the committee and is being assisted by Messrs. William Wetter, Henry Gantner, Fred Schalka, Joseph Blumers, George Heitkemper, Joe Herring, Joe Schoenbacher, Herman Amshoff, Fred Roth, Robert Schicken and Will Neusbaum. They promise their friends a time they will long remember.

GREAT DAY AT ST. LEO'S.

The Rev. Father Fitzgerald, pastor of St. Leo's church, is busily engaged in instructing and preparing his class of children from the parochial school. In his work he has been ably assisted by the Ursuline Sisters, who conduct the school. Under the guidance of the pastor and these good nuns the children are making rapid progress. The children will receive their first holy communion on the third Sunday in May, and on the afternoon of the same day will have their annual May procession and celebration. Parents, Sisters and the reverend pastor are justly proud of St. Leo's school and scholars.

COUNTY BOARD CALLED.

County President John A. Murphy has called the Jefferson County Board, A. O. H., to meet at Bertrand Hall, Sixth street, between Oak and St. Catherine, on the evening of Wednesday, April 29. President Murphy desires a full representation from each of the four divisions. The reports of officers for the first quarter are to be acted upon, a field day is to be planned, and further arrangements for the State convention are to be perfected.

PAST FOUR SCORE AND TEN.

David W. Murphy died at his home in County Limerick, Ireland, in the latter part of March, but the intelligence was not received in Louisville until last Saturday. The deceased was ninety-one years old, and was always a resident of the Green Isle. He was the father of Mrs. Con J. Ford, at Twelfth and Oak streets; Michael Murphy, the grocer at Seventeenth and Portland avenue, and of Mrs. Michael O'Neil, of 1215 West Oak street.

The admission has been fixed at twenty-five cents, reserved seats fifteen cents extra. Rehearsals have been in progress for some time and admirable performances are assured.

HINTS ON STYLE.

Earrings are more fashionable than ever. The sugar loaf is the latest in millinery.

Hat pins are much larger than in many years.

Bracelets may grow until they are two inches wide. Chenille has become more popular than silk fringe.

Black is finding much favor for the semi-dress toilets.

Elaborately beaded belts are prescribed by fashion.

Soutache worked into designs is often allied with lace.

Suit coats of the tailor finish are nearly all semi-fitted.

Arbutus is taking a decidedly prominent part in millinery.

Jet will be in good taste for general wear with summer dresses.

Paris decrees sleeves that shall be extra long and tight fitting.

Embroidery and lace are playing a wonderful part in trimming.

There is a strong tendency in the new coats to dip in the back.

Chinese embroidery is the thing to set off a waist of pongee.

Instead of going up and down, stripes in the new collars go around.

Women's hats of rough Jap braid are offered in brown, navy blue, burnt and black.

In summer all white is considered as deep mourning as is the hot and sombre all black.

HIBERNIANS.

What They Have Been Doing
the Past Week—General
News Notes.

Friday will be the regular meeting night for Division 2.
Division 1 ought to build up rapidly in its new and convenient quarters.
Division 1 of Boston reports a net increase of forty-two members and $800 for the past year.

The division at Clinton is said to be one of the strongest in Massachusetts, having a treasury of $10,000.

When Division 4 meets Monday night the Entertainment Committee will report on the forthcoming vaudeville soiree.

The Ladies' Auxiliary will meet in regular session at Wednesday evening. Interesting reports are expected from several committees.

Every member of the order ought to attend Division 3's meeting Thursday night and lend encouragement to the Marching Club project.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of Middlesex county, Mass., has thirty-two divisions, containing 2,600 members, certainly a splendid showing.

The five officers of each of the divisions in Fall River, Mass., have arranged for the entire organization in the city to receive holy communion in a body on Easter Sunday.

Committees will soon be appointed to prepare for the observance of next St. Patrick's day at Worcester, Mass., which it is hoped to make the most elaborate festival celebration ever witnessed in New England.

Division 4 of Syracuse has arranged for its members to approach holy communion in a body at St. Vincent de Paul's church on Easter Sunday.
Here the order has a firm friend in the Rev. Father Dougherty.

Hartford Hibernians have secured the Footguard Armory for their Irish exhibition, which takes place the last week in May. Every line of Irish industry and numerous historic scenes will be represented, with music, songs and high class entertainments.

His legion of friends and acquaintances, and especially the Hibernians and employees of the Louisville & Nashville railroad, are grieved to learn that Owen Keisan is still unable to leave his home on Fort street, where he has been ill and confined to his room for the past three weeks.

SEASON OPENS.

The baseball season will formally open in Louisville next Wednesday, when the local team will cross bats with the Milwaukee Braves.
Jimmy Burke, Louisville's new manager, is not making any pretentious promises for his team, but local fans believe that President Thomas Barker and Financial Manager Chiv-ing have provided excellent timber for the nine this season. In fact the rejuvenated club may be expected to give a better article of ball than has been accredited to this city within the last ten years.

EUCHE, LOTTO, DANCE.

Trinity Council's Entertainment Committee has arranged to give a euchre, lotto party and dance at the club house, 718 East Gray street, on the evening of Thursday, April 23.
Fifty beautiful prizes are to be distributed and the game will be called at 8 o'clock sharp. Dr. Philip Beutel, Jr., chairman of the committee, is of the opinion that this will be the last euchre in Trinity's old home.

FATHER WARD IMPROVES.

The Rev. Father James A. Ward, who has been ill at St. Anthony's Hospital during the last four months, shows signs of improvement this week. He has been suffering from a complication of ailments. His last chance was at Fall River, Mass., but previous to that time he was located at Taunton, Mass., and Mystic, Conn.

WHY GRANDPA SMILES.

The stork hovered over New Albany this week and finally deposited a pretty baby girl at the home of Frank Zoeller, Jr. The newcomer will probably be called Frances in honor of its father, and Grandpa
Frank Zoeller, of the Paul Reising Brewery Company.

OFFICERS CHOSEN.

Former Capt. Sam Owens has been elected President of the Policemen's Benevolent Association, and former Capt. Andrew Krakel has been re-elected Treasurer, while Theas
Check has been chosen Recording Secretary and Frank Buddell Financial Secretary.

IMPORTANT.

The Supreme Council Reception
Committee of the Y. M. I. will meet at Trinity Hall at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Business of importance is to be transacted and Chairman James T. Shelley requests a full attendance of the committee.

POST-EASTER DANCE.

Prominent young men of the East End have arranged to give a dance at King's Hall, Baxter and Rosewood avenues, on the night of Friday, May
1. The committee in charge includes
L. M. Coggeshall, Les Caine and J. M.
Hennessy.

CLEM FANGMAN'S ENTERPRISE.
Clem Fangman, for seven years with the Big Store, has assumed charge of the cigar store at 245 Fourth avenue. He will have an excellent line of domestic and imported cigars on hand at all times.

ROBERTSON LANDS CONTRACT.

CHURCH GROWTH.

During the past three years the Catholic population of Wyoming has grown from 4,000 to 10,000. The academy at Cheyenne and a school for Indian children at the Shoshone reservation are the only Catholic institutions in the State, but six chapels are being erected at distant points.
There are now eighteen priests laboring with Right Rev. Bishop Keane in a field nearly 100,000 square miles in extent, running 365 miles from east to west and 275 miles from north to south. To save the cause in Wyoming much must be done within the next five years, and Bishop Keane looks with confidence for aid from Catholics of the East, who rejoice in the peaceful and secure possession of every religious advantage.

HINTS ON STYLE.

Waists are short or skirts are high,
whichever you please.

Plaited skirts are pledged to remain as popular as ever.

Trimmings are ultra-fashionable.
Linen is one of the season's finds in millinery.

The Gainsborough and Romney are shapes in millinery that will be found most becoming.

Sleeveless coats of cloth, silk, lace and pongee are going to be much worn this summer.

Sleeves made in one with the bodices are in accordance with the latest decree of fashion.

Youthful looking new coats have beaded backs, in which the belt passes through a slit at the side.

Some of the jauntiest of skirt models have just one wide band, which generally is cut biaswise.

One of the smartest effects of the season is the modified Prince Chap model with new French dip, back and front.

Blue is considered the luckiest color for the going away suit of the bride, but it seems that gray is worn as much.

All shades of purple and lavender are ultra-fashionable, and next in favor are the smoke tones now so much in vogue.

One of the most popular materials for summer is dotted Swiss, and this year it is shown in all sorts of designs and colors.

Severely close fitting princess jumpers that button over a simple blouse of lawn or batiste are popular for morning dresses. For early spring these are made in cloth, later in raw silks, taffetas and linens.

THACKERAY'S PHILOSOPHY.

Ah! No man knows his strength or his weakness till occasions prove them. If there be some thoughts and actions of his life from the memory of which a man shrinks with shame, sure there are some which he may be proud to own up and remember; forgiven injuries, conquered temptations (now and then) and difficulties vanquished by endurance.

IRELAND.

Record of the Most Important of the Recent Events Culled From Exchanges.

Only three cases were presented to the Mayo grand jury at the latest assizes.

At the recent opening of the Kerry Assizes there were only eleven cases on the docket, and none of them were felonies.

Within ten years the population of Ireland has decreased 200,000, while the taxes have increased at the rate of $6.12 a head.

The body of Anne Kerans, of Caherglassane, near Gort, has been found in the river. She had been missing since August.

Francis Reilly, for the past seventeen years Chairman of Granard Urban Council, County Kildare, is dead at the age of sixty-three.

The Monaghan County Board of the Ancient Order of Hibernians have determined to erect a monument to the memory of the late James Rice, of Tyholland, a veteran of the order.

At Ardara, County Donegal, John Evans was found guilty of setting fire to and destroying the Catholic church. Evans was an Orangeman, and the jury recommended him to clericality.

Bernard McCormick, a cattle dealer and exporter of Drogheda, died at his home there. He was one of the finest specimens of manhood in the country and stood six feet four inches in his stockings.

Mary Gasken, aged about twenty-seven years and a native of Baginb-town, died from burns received while at the residence of Sir William Goff at Glenville, County Waterford. Her dress was ignited while she stood with her back to a fire.

Patrick Rorke died at Ballintubber, near Castlereagh, at the remarkable age of 109 years. Last harvest time he walked miles daily to work in the fields. He had many anecdotes of the Ribbonmen, Whiteboys, the O'Connell campaign and the famine of '47.

Sir Nicholas O'Connor, a distinguished Roscommon man and formerly British Ambassador to Constantinople, is dead. Only a few months ago he sold the last of his property to his tenants at Ballymoe, on the borders of Roscommon and Galway.

Lady Bellingham is at the head of a movement of Irish women to present something appropriate to Pope Pius on the occasion of his jubilee.
They intend to give him a number of Irish made silver chalices, which will be presented to him by a deputation of Irish women.

DISTINGUISHED MISSIONARY.

The Right Rev. Bishop Henninghaus, S. V. D., Vicar Apostolic of South Shantung, China, accompanied by a native Chinese priest, is now in New York City in an effort to raise funds for missionary purposes in his diocese. En route to America Bishop Henninghaus spent several months in Germany and lectured in all the large cities on his work in the far East.
He may visit Louisville on his way across the American continent.

MEETS POPE.

J. Pierpont Morgan, the multimillionaire of New York, and his daughter, Mrs. Herbert L. Satterlee, were received in private audience by Pope Pius X. last Saturday. The demeanor of His Holiness was said to be very cordial. At Mr. Morgan's request the Pope wrote an expression of good will and benediction for Mr.
Morgan and his family.

CROKER FOR BRYAN.

Latest advices from London are to the effect that Richard Croker, the erstwhile leader of Tammany, is coming to the United States this fall. In the event of Bryan's nomination for the Presidency at Denver it is hinted Croker will manage Democracy's organization in the Empire State. This will be welcome news not only to Bryan but to all good Democrats.

POST-LENTEN FETE.

Ladies of America, have arranged for an entertainment in honor of the Advisory Board at Bertrand Hall at 8 o'clock on the evening of Thursday April 23. Quite a number of invitations have been issued, and the members would like to see a large crowd present.

HANDSOME GIFT.

Archbishop Ryan, of Philadelphia, announced on Wednesday that a lady residing in that city had given $100,000 for the proposed high school for Catholic girls. The donor is believed to be Mrs. Frederick Canfield, formerly Mrs. Anna Weightman Walker.

CURED THE GRIP.

This is not new but true. A very devout chertall deacon, being somewhat indisposed, was advised by his doctor to try hot toddy, but he objected on account of the bad example set before his family. "Just call for hot water, saying that you wish to shave and keep the other ingredients in your own possession." The next day a neighbor called to inquire how the elder was getting along. "He seems to be feeling much better," said his wife, "he shaved three times last night and twice this morning."

COULDN'T TAKE THE CASE

"You'll have to send for another doctor," said the one who had been called, after a glance at the patient.
"Am I as sick as that?" gasped the sufferer.

"I don't know just how sick you are," replied the man of medicine,
"but I know you're the lawyer who cross-examined me when I appeared as an expert witness. My conscience won't let me kill you, and I'll be hanged if I want to cure you. Good-day."

NICE BALANCE.

Mackin Council's Treasury Has Nest Egg Worth While.

Considering that it is Lent and the weather not over propitious, the attendance at Mackin Council's meeting last Monday night was unusually good. President Robert T. Burke presided and lent enthusiasm to his fellow-officers and members generally. William Schaeffly, who has been suffering from typhoid fever for several weeks past, was reported well. Treasurer Daniel W. Weber made his report for the first quarter, showing that the council had to its credit in bank the tidy sum of $2,000.98. The Opera Committee reported that rehearsals of "A Mile From Town" were being held regularly, and that great progress was being made toward proficiency. A contract for a theater will probably be closed within a week or two. Quite a number of new members were present and were called upon to relate their experiences at the latest initiation. After acting upon the report of the Joint Committee the meeting adjourned.

SEVERE LOSS.

Death of Noted Nun Is Blow to Community in New England.

The community of the Sisters of Mercy at Meriden, Conn., has sustained a severe loss in the death of Mother Mary Theresa Perry, who was called to her eternal reward last Monday. This estimable lady was a member of her order forty-six years, and was one of ten Sisters who in 1872 responded to the call of Bishop McFarland for nuns to work in the New England States, and particularly in his diocese of Hartford. She was three elected Mother Superior of her convent.

Mother Mary Theresa was recognized as one of the most gifted women in the order and at her death had been a member of the community and always at the same convent forty-six years. She was born in County Limerick, Ireland, in 1837, and descended from a very religious family. She was a most gifted musician and a sister of Prof. James Perry, the well known organist and teacher of music. While Mother Mary Theresa was not known personally in Louisville, the friends of her brother, nephews and nieces join with them in a prayer that she may rest in peace and that perpetual light may shine upon her.

CLUBS TO MERGE.

Division 3 Will Yield Time to the Hibernian Marchers.

Division 3, A. O. H., held its regular meeting Thursday night of last week and was called to order by Vice President Martin Sheehan. President Patrick T. Sullivan, who had been unavoidably detained, came in later and assumed charge. Edward McGinn and John Mulloy were elected to membership, obligated and instructed in the workings of the order by the President. Patrick Bishop, who has been ill, was reported as improving very slowly. County President John A. Murphy was called upon for an address and in response said he was now engaged in distributing the new rituals. He congratulated the members on the manner in which their business was conducted, and urged them to join the March Club and to attend the national convention at Indianapolis in July.

Chapters 7 and 8 of the history of Ireland were read and enjoyed. The Literary Committee was instructed to provide refreshment for next meeting and the Secretary was ordered to send cards to the members, requesting their presence. The attendance was large and all took an active part in the meeting. It was also decided to transact only the necessary routine business at the next meeting, so that the hall could be turned over to the county officers for the purpose of merging the various marching clubs into one large organization. After the club is organized it will be necessary to decide on a uniform and to provide for drills, so that a good showing can be made by Kentucky at the national convention.

NOT OUR FRANK.

Quite a commotion was caused in the West End early this week when the name of Frank Adams appeared in the list of marriage licenses. Several of the girls shouted in glee: "Good Bye! Good Bye!" to the March Club. Frank Adams is gone, Charley Raidy is going, and Frank Murphy is not beyond redemption. It was not our Frank, of Mackin Council. If Frank wants to marry he will not marry during Lent, but if he continues to make regular visits to the East End something may happen. Many of the ex-bachelors are awaiting developments.

ANENT P. G. WHITCOMB.

An able representative to a national convention means much to any subordinate organization. P. G. Whitcomb, President of Stereotypers and Electrotypers Union No. 35, is one of the ablest labor advocates in Louisville, and will be his union's representative at Boston next August. Mr. Whitcomb is a native of Boston. Young, alert, able, energetic and ever with a weather eye for the benefit of his craftsmen, he will capably represent his Louisville colleagues in the home of baked beans.

ST. LOUIS BERTRAND'S.

Holy Week will be a busy one for the Dominican Friars at St. Louis Bertrand's church. The Dominicans were the first priests in Louisville to introduce the service of the Tenebrae and this year will be the forty-second time that the white habited sons of St. Dominic have sung those grand and solemn melodies. On Holy Thursday, Good Friday and Holy Saturday the morning services will begin at 8 o'clock. The office of the Tenebrae will begin at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings.

NATIONAL FEDERATION.

The National Executive Board of the American Federation of Catholic Societies has fixed on August 9, 10, 11 and 12 as the dates for the national convention to be held in Boston this year. Some 800 delegates will be present, representing all sections of the United States and Porto Rico. The Boston committee in charge of the arrangements has secured Symphony Hall for headquarters, mass meetings and the routine work of the convention.

THREE MILLIONS SPENT.

As illustrating the enormous growth of the church it is noted that in the archdiocese of Philadelphia the sum of $3,000,000 was spent last year in Catholic building work—churches, schools, convents, charitable institutions, in the improvements of present edifices. Many more buildings and improvements are planned for this year, which promises even greater growth in Catholic population.

ANDREW KAST LANDS.

Andrew Kast, for many years with the city as Assistant Superintendent of Sewers, is now holding a responsible position with the Kentucky Vitified Brick Company. Mr. Kast understands the business from alpha to omega, and is a valuable acquisition to his new employers.

AMUSEMENTS.

Augustus Thomas' great play, "The Witching Hour," which made a hit in Louisville recently, comes back to Macauley's Theater for a whole week. The engagement begins next Monday night.

The Masonic offering next week will be "East Lynne," a heart-interest drama that will always command public favor and which many tears have been shed. Lillian Foster Goodwin will appear in the leading role, supported by a strong company.

The elevating character of the motion pictures at Hopkin's Theater is believed to be in a measure the reason that there was no falling off in attendance at this popular place of amusement during Lent. Manager Dustin promises another excellent bill for next week.

The White City's season will open Sunday, May 10, and Creator and his band will furnish the music for the first two weeks. The new theater is now being erected and the management is planning for at least four weeks of comic opera at the opening of the season. The White City bids fair to have as many attractions and of better quality than last year.

ACTIVITY SHOWN.

Both Political Parties Are Getting in Shape For Campaign.

Secretary of War Taft, who aspires to the Republican nomination for the Presidency of the United States, addressed a large crowd at Hopkins' Theater last night. He was enthusiastically received. Not all who heard him were Republicans. Many attended the meeting because they wanted to see what a real life Secretary of War and globe-trotter looked like. Col. Morris Belknap presided and introduced Mr. Taft.

Louisville Democrats expect to have a real love feast and get-together meeting Monday night when they assemble at the Seelbach to celebrate Jefferson day. After the physical man has been satisfied at the banquet board Hon. Edward J. McDermott will preside as master of ceremonies. It is expected that he will give the Democrats a heart-to-heart talk that will cause the other speakers to follow his lead.

GENEROUS GIFT.

Member of Trinity Presents Check to the Building Fund.

The attendance at Trinity Council was unusually good last Monday night, and the enthusiasm displayed was enormous, particularly when Lawrence Hoffman presented the council $100 to aid in completing the new club house on Baxter avenue. His generosity was so unusual and spontaneous that many members were stricken dumb for a moment, but when they recovered the donor was complimented on all sides. His example will doubtless lead other members to be generous according to their means.

Every officer was present and quite a volume of routine business was disposed of. Two applications were received. Dr. Philip G. Beutel, Jr., Chairman of the Entertainment Committee, reported that arrangements for the euchre, lotto and dance to be given on the evening of April 23 were well in hand. No less than sixty prizes are to be awarded successful contestants.

During the evening quite a lot of stock in the new building corporation was issued to members of the council. The Building Committee reported that work on the new club house was progressing rapidly.

ENJOYABLE

Was Entertainment Given at Straitsville by the Hibernians.

To Martin Thome, a former resident of Louisville, and a brother of the Rev. Father Andrew J. Thome, pastor of St. Vincent de Paul's church, the Kentucky Irish American is indebted for a splendid account of the St. Patrick's day celebration at New Straitsville, a growing manufacturing town in Ohio. Mr. Thome writes in part:

"On St. Patrick's day the Rev. Father Henry J. Kellerman, pastor of St. Augustine's church, sang a high mass and delivered a sermon which highly pleased the people. The church was crowded. In the evening the members of the Ancient Order of Hibernians had a celebration in the parish hall. It was an invitation affair. Rev. Father Callahan, from Columbus, and a lay friend of his, and Rev. Father Corning, from Corning, made addresses which were appreciated. Our own musical talent was supplemented by excellent singers from Columbus and Zanesville.

"Miss Phelan, the young lady who teaches the highest class in our school, delivered a recitation, and was so enthusiastically received that she had to respond to two encores. Father Henry was gratified at the reception he received, and considers it a compliment to his school. There were 400 people present and knowing ones say it was the greatest entertainment ever given by local Hibernians."

PASSIONISTS ARE BUSY.

Father Henry Miller, C. P., the very reverend rector of the Sacred Heart Retreat, will preach the last of the series of Sunday Lenten sermons at that house of worship at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. During the past forty days the Passionist fathers have been scattered all over the country, giving missions and retreats, but a sufficient number of them will have returned next week to give the Tenebrae service. Instead of having the exercises at night they will be held at 3 o'clock in the afternoon on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. This will give people from the city a chance to attend and return home before twilight.

MERGING OF MARCHERS.

A special meeting of the marching clubs of the four local divisions of the Ancient Order of Hibernians will be held at Division 3's hall, northeast corner of Seventeenth and Market streets, next Thursday evening. President Patrick T. Sullivan will hustle the ordinary routine business of Division 3, so that as much time as possible may be given to the merger of the marching clubs into one compact organization. After the officers are elected the members will decide upon a uniform to be worn on the occasion of the club's visit to Indianapolis next July.

APPOINTED DELEGATES.

Acting Gov. Cox last Saturday appointed Kentucky's delegates to the National Conference of Charities and Corrections, which convenes at Richmond on May 6 for a week. Prominent among the list are John Doyle, Julius Hild and Mrs. Kate Hayman, of this city; Col. Percy Haly and Albert Scott, of Frankfort, and Dr. L. H. Mulligan, of Lakeland.

WILL BUILD HALL.

The Irish societies of San Francisco are united in a movement for the speedy erection of a building to be known as Celtic Hall and which will be the home of the various fraternities of that city.
